July 15th 1918.

Somewhere in France.
Dear Father and Sisters:-

This finds us (the Argonia bunch) at a new training camp. We all are well and located nearer to each other than ever before.

I hated to leave the O. M. at the other camp for, we the O. M. force sure had a fine time during our stay. But (the O. M. bunch) we are together on same detail here. The night before we left, the lady of the café gave us, two cooks, a water and myself a seven course dinner, French style to be sure and some feed

I want you to know with plenty of wine. I was carrying her pocket book. Before I left.
Don't misconstrue that, I carried it at meal time.
She wants me to spend my furloughs at her home, but latest dope out I will have us in the States before I get a leave.

Am enclosing a letter which Ray Flory sent me at Dogpitan and it was then forwarded over here again. I have not heard directly from him over here, but am expecting a letter daily. Don't know whether he is in England or here.

Received four letters from you last Thurs.
dated 5/31, 5/28, 6/14 and 6/17. We get mail about twice each week.

You spoke of the French girls. Yes, some very beautiful but taken as a bunch, they are no comparison to the Kansas girls.

Sure a bunch of Summer Co. boys answering the call to the colors, but they are too late to see any active service.
