

is so much to ^{see}. You spoke of the new system on sugar. I have never been affected by it over here yet. Carried a big can of it on this trip. Leave it to "Old Mike" and it is not such a hard war as you may think. There has not been a minute since we left Camp in the States that I have not enjoyed this wonderful experience.

In my travels from southern to northern and eastern France, I found it a more progressive country the farther north I traveled and in central part there were some ~~land~~ and fields much like those of Sumner Co. And wheat was a big crop but oats only fair. Threshing machines I haven't seen a one, but saw many small
