

J. W. A. deal.

I received a letter from Raymond Flom yesterday stating that if he was for Eng. I yet, but expected to cross the Channel soon.

We have sure been having a fine time at B. M. Here in this French home. Am sitting before a bright fire in a big fire place this evening after a hot shower-bath and donning a new suit of Uncle Sam's woolen underwear. Also have been keeping my hide filled with hot-cakes, beef-steaks, French and Swiss cheese, Pumpkin-pie, apples and hazel-nuts galore. Wait until I step out in my new uniform which I am expecting to-morrow. The lady of the house insists that we meet the fair
