

My Dear Friends,

I wish to express my sympathy to all of you.

I do so wish I might say or do something that would comfort you in this your time of sorrow. Many people pass on and are soon forgotten because during their stay on earth they have never done anything to be remembered for. Well, this is not so of Florence because every day of her life was filled with loving deeds, thoughtfulness, kindness and generosity — not only to her family, but to her many friends.

There are experiences in life that seem beyond understanding, but no matter what the situation that confronts us, we should never allow ourselves to believe there is no way out. Maybe the world cannot offer a solution but "The Higher Power" can when we turn our attention to His Presence, believing that He will help us, that He will inspire us with perfect ideas needed to solve our difficulty. He will do so, and He will also supply us with strength and the ability to carry out these ideas.

I would have always had a lovely memory of Florence, but I shall always remember her picking roses (her lovely white ones) for Polly and me. She was so generous with them and we both appreciated them so much, and it should be a great consolation to all of you that she so lived her life that where she has gone, her lovely white roses will be always blooming for her.

I have always believed that we do not lose "Our Loved ones" because of "Lovely Memories". I think you will find this is true as time goes on.

Very sincerely, Ruth Kackley.
