

PORT

Mr. Toastmaster:
Faculty Members, Juniors, & Friends

We, as Seniors have reached port. In commerce, port means a place to which vessels may resort for various purposes, especially to discharge or receive their cargoes. It is a safe place for anchoring a ship.

Now, we, as a class have weathered the storm--and have reached this safe place. At times it was rather hard for us to steer straight--but with words of encouragement from the leaders--our teachers--we reached port safely.

Tonight we are thankful and happy to be here, knowing that the prize we sought is won. That is, we have
