LEADERSHIP

Good leadership is like a torch at night held high to show the way. It is a sign post on a strange road directing paths. It shines like steel, and does not waver in the wind or storm. Its light is soft and beautiful; the circle of its influence far. It shines on all alike. It asks the best of men and women who have lifted up their arms to hold on high the lighted torch. It is the Master saying, "I am the Way, the Truth, the Light". —K. T. B.
