

4539 N. E. Rodney
Portland, Oregon
July 22, 1953

Dear mother & all,

Just a few lines to let you know that I am thinking of you. I hope ~~that~~ mamma that you are feeling better by now. Buddy called me the other night and he said that you were sorta looking for me to come home. I will come if you do not feel able to come here.

Our business is moving along about the same. Not nearly as good as it was last year, but we still work just as hard.

I started this letter yesterday. Some one came into the office and I got busy. did not have dinner until 8:30 last night. ~~I wanted~~ We wanted to go to the base ball game here last night, but did not get through in time. Neither of us have seen a base ball game since we've been here.

Minerva Wellington was in Portland last week. I did not get to see her, but we did talk on the telephone. Minerva said that she plans to move here. Will be back in about ten days. She moves so much that I doubt whether she stays here very long.