

that he gave out, but he says they didn't need him any longer.

one of Tatie's sister's babies died last Thursday one of the twins. she had always been sick.

We got a strange message over the phone the other day, and so far we have not found the straight of it.

It was that Lon's wife's niece's son was dead and it seems that the message was from