

Your star foretells you a great many lucky events. You are destined to a brilliant success, but you have to earn it by good conduct; but let wise men lead you, they will purchase for you a good situation in the way of honor and honesty, and they will be rewarded by the satisfaction of their conscience.

An inheritance which you will receive will enable you to do a good business.

You will have to overcome some disappointments; your mildness against the wretched will procure you the respect and friendship of every body.