

Debra brought up entertainment, because of Kim Thomas dead-line, April 15th for all information on D.J.'s. A full up to date of three D.J.'s offers were read as follows:

NEW BUSINESS:

D.J. Joseph Wakefield out of Topeka proposed $475.00 both nites would pay for 2 rooms, if under forty dollars. Also, with his package a vendor would accompany and sell clothing and accessories. One gentleman would help with the fashion show and was willing to MC for no additional charge, while music was being played.

D.J. Louis Edward of Salina, also known as Dr. Soul his bid was $450.00 for both nites; and he would pay his own rooms, and allow us to use his microphones.

D.J. Richie Rich out of Junction City his bid is $500.00 for both nites and he has a light display. D.J. Richie Rich plays for "Fast Breaks" a club in Salina according to Yvette and has the most popular music for her generation. The vote was tabled until youth arrived.

A suggestion was made by Yvonne Sayers to have music for the older people. And, D. A. Wilson suggested a large tent and K. Thomas suggested using the tennis court, but Yvonne suggested the platform on westside township hall. The entire group liked the idea of Yvonne's, and Debra made a motion to have platform dancing, and Freddie Switzer add onto the motion that 20's thru 60's should be played and Debra add on 70's. The group decided not to put an age on the generation, but everyone wholeheartedly agreed.

Yvonne suggested oldies but goodies is what we could call it. Again, the group wholeheartedly agreed in excitement. The motion was to have platform dancing and be called "oldies but goodies", it was seconded by F. Switzer; and by a majority, we agreed to have it Friday and Saturday nite. E. VanDuVall requested someone to head it up, and Y. Sayers volunteered to provide tapes. Charsetta Bates said, she likes to dance, but not sure about heading it. Yvonne offered to help, but Charsetta refused and a disruption broke out. Kim Thomas had to call the meeting back to order. Charsetta accepted Bertha's offer to help.
