

PARKS, BOULEVARDS, PARKWAYS AND YOU

You have a stake in your parks, boulevards and parkways. The special abutting foot tax boulevard and parkway residents pay helps cover only some of the costs to maintain our system. Other citizens and businesses also contribute, but you can make a difference in your neighborhood by keeping your property neat and clean.

Boulevard Services is here to help you. For more information, call

THE KESSLER SOCIETY

To help celebrate 100 years of Parks, Recreation and Boulevards in 1992 and look forward to its Second Century, Boulevard Services is helping to form the Kessler Society. The Kessler Society is a citizen support organization named after the department's first landscape architect and the creator of the boulevard and parkway system, George E. Kessler.

The Kessler Society recognizes that the historic park and boulevard system is a key design element of Kansas City and is a major contributor to the city's unique character and quality of life.

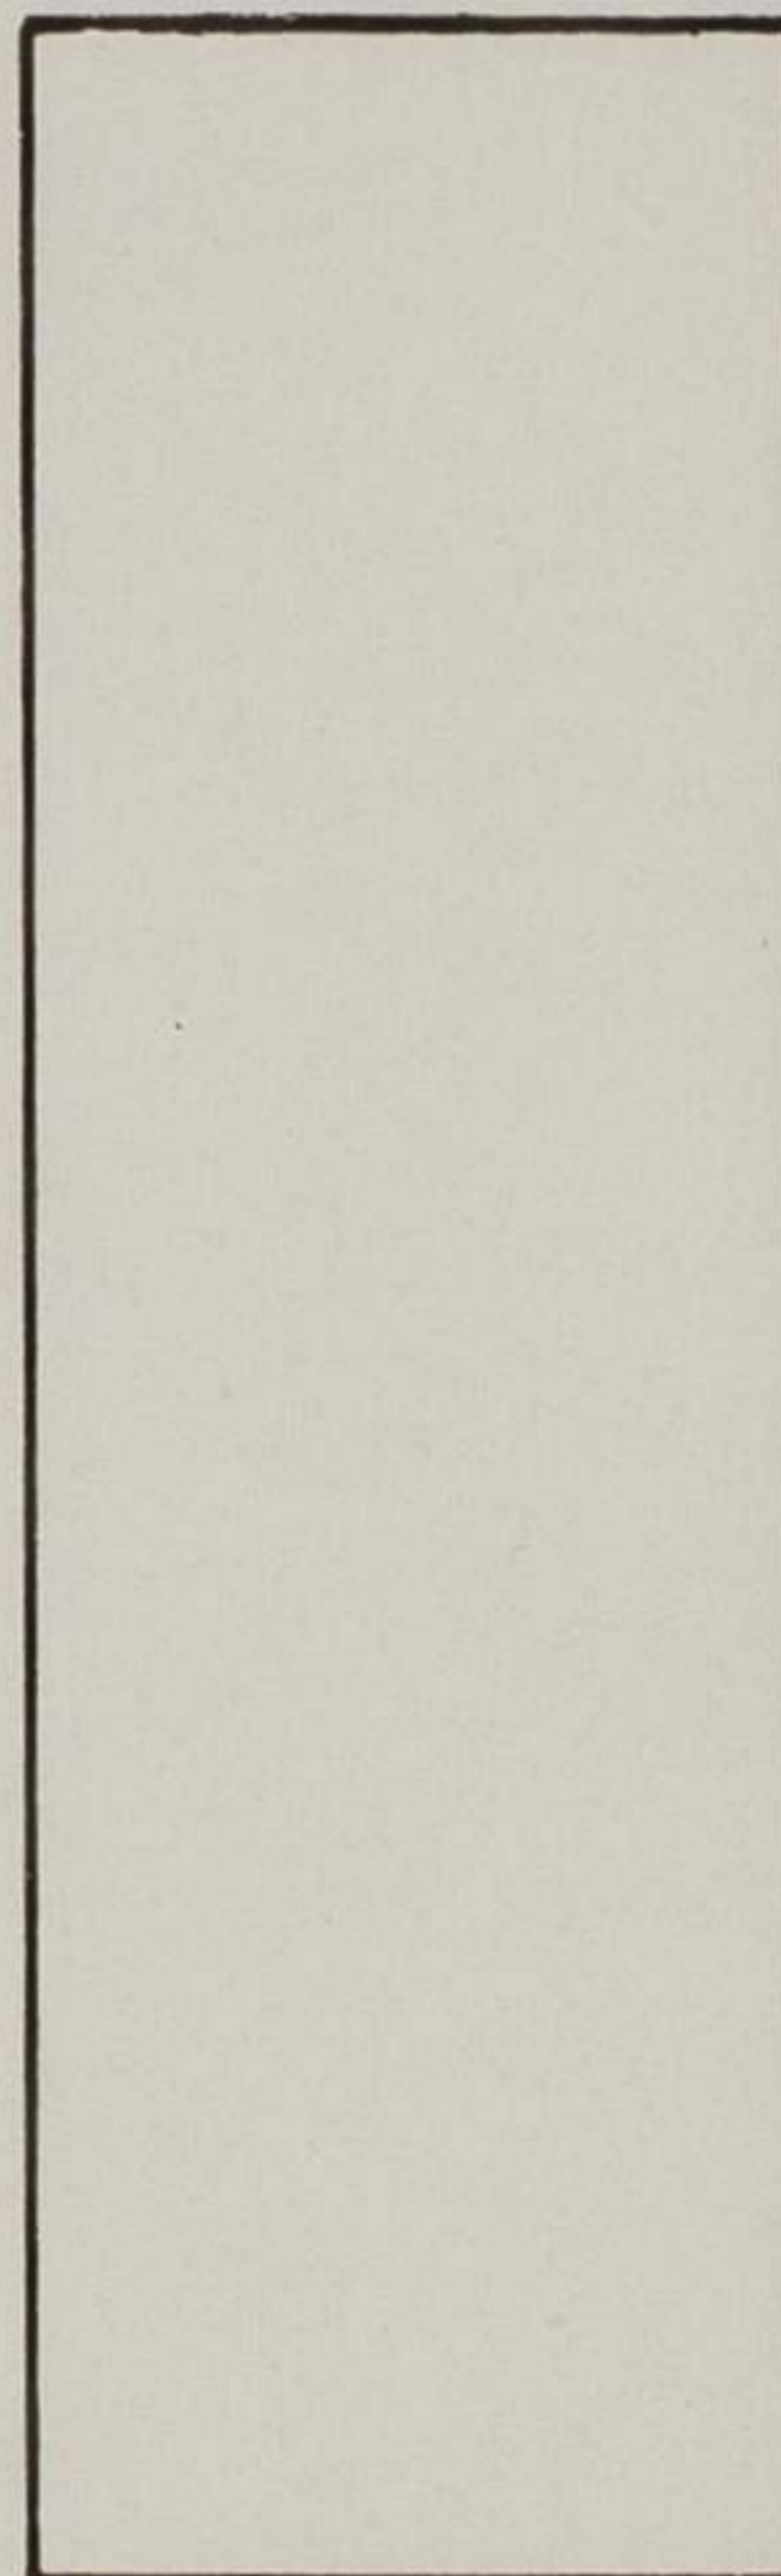

The Society's goal is to be an advocate for Parks and Boulevards by:

- Educating the public on the historical significance and value of the system to Kansas City, Missouri;
- Supporting the maintenance, conservation, improvement and expansion of the system;
- Serving as a citizen advisory group to the Board of Parks and Recreation Commissioners and as a forum for public participation.

To join the Kessler Society or to get more information about how you can help, call Boulevard Services at 523-5613.
