

June 4, 1938.

Mr. D. K. Bible,
Director of Athletics,
University of Texas,
Austin, Texas.

Dear D. K.:

Please do not think that I appreciate the less your kind letter of May 23 because I have not answered it sooner. It was mighty good to hear from you, and I want you to know that we appreciate your offer of hospitality for practice before or after the games. We may want to avail ourselves of this opportunity.

It would be a great pleasure to endeavor to play a round of golf with you and have a fine visit.

If you will bear with me for another week I will be able to write you definitely regarding what our plans are. I have an appointment on June 7th with an athletic director who desires us to dedicate his field house.

I received a good letter from Jack Gray, and I am writing him about the same as I am writing you, but I should know soon after June 7th and will write you definitely. It is nice of you to ask us and to offer us the guarantee that you have. I would like to sign a tentative contract to have Texas play at our place the year following or the next year for the same guarantee.

I have no disillusion about what Texas will do in football and other sports, as well. We are looking for a mighty tough ball game here on September 24, and I know those Texas boys, when they boil out all the excess tissues in that good old Texas climate, will be a rollicking, rampant gang of buccaners who will tromp on Mount Oread stadium from now on. It will be fine to see you on September 24 and have a visit with you. We are looking forward to that with great anticipation.

With kindest personal regards, I am

Sincerely yours,

Director of Physical Education,
Varsity Basketball Coach.
