Mr. George Edwards,
Varsity Basketball Coach,
University of Missouri,
Columbia, Mo.

Dear George:

Suppose we use the glass backboards for our games the 22nd and 23rd. We might have a crowd large enough to justify it, and certainly if we put the other boards up it would look as if we had not taken their convenience into consideration.

I am writing the Hall to this effect.

Even though you have lost Pippin you will still be stronger than we are. We lost to Washburn last night in a rather hectic game, so I am not sure just how we will look in conference competition. I believe we are going to have a fine crowd. Even though our team is not up to par, the type of competition and the schools will draw the crowd, I am sure.

If there is anything further that I can do to stimulate the fine competition of our schools, please let me know.

Sincerely yours,

Director of Physical Education,
Varsity Basketball Coach.
