

October 12, 1944.

Mr. A. J. Lewandowski,
University of Nebraska,
Lincoln, Nebraska.

Dear Lew:

I have forgotten just what date you are open or closed on your pre-Christmas schedule. I have been designated by the Big Six boys interested in the Kansas City games to arrange a foursome. And hoping that you might fill in on one of these games, at least for one night, I am writing you.

On the 16th of December Bruce Drake's Oklahoma team and the Iowa Seahawks will play half a double-header. I think we have Ev Shelton and maybe Arkansas to fill in, but we are not sure of Arkansas. I am asking Bruce Drake to take it up with Arkansas as he is well acquainted in that region.

On the 22nd and 23rd of December, Missouri, Kansas State and Kansas are playing double-headers each night but we need a fourth member. Frosty Cox of Colorado is interested in coming in one of those nights, but with a Navy outfit he can make only one night. I have asked him to give me his preference on which night he would like to come.

I am wondering if you could come in either the night of the 15th or 16th, or could you come in the night of the 22nd or 23rd. If you could, I believe you would make some money even though you made a trip down from Lincoln for the one night. Personally, I am not planning to enter Kansas on the 15th or 16th, because some of the brothers might think that we were pushing our entry too rapidly.

Lots of good luck to you, Lew. I will be seeing you the 21st of October.

Sincerely yours,

Director of Physical Education,
Varsity Basketball Coach.
