

June 6, 1939.

Mr. Maurice L. Breidenthal,
Security National Bank,
Kansas City, Kansas.

Dear Maurice:

I thought before now I would be able to get in to see you to talk to you about that Al Wellhausen note. Al lives at 2213 No. Kate Street, Oklahoma City, Oklahoma. He got married a few months ago and his wife also is working. I believe the note is due on July 2, is it not?

I am wondering if you will be kind enough to write Al, saying that we are going to have to have interest on the note and that he certainly should apply something on the principal. That boy could not have continued in school, and Mrs. Wellhausen came to me and asked if I would be kind enough to help him out. The boy has played two years of A. A. U. basketball and they pay more than a mere pittance for playing, but Al has not seen fit to make any payment on the note. For that reason I think a good snappy letter will help the case along. Perhaps the wife does not know that he owes this money.

Yesterday I went down to the Wellhausen house and had a talk with Mrs. Wellhausen. Mr. Wellhausen is going to write Al and tell him that he should do something about this debt. So I think that you can put a little emphasis on the request to pay the interest and start paying something on the principal. Al's wife is a secretary, drawing a fairly good salary, and Al is working for some insurance company, but he is not a great hand to hoard money. I think that during this past winter he was with a group of basketball players - the Oklahoma City Parks - who spent most of their earnings. Anyhow, he has been married for two or three months and I feel that he should get in the habit of doing something to liquidate his indebtedness. At least, I will appreciate your friendly cooperation.

I am still counting very heavily on that short visit when I buy a lunch for you and Tom. Here's hoping the Breidenthal family are all well and that the old master is still on the job one hundred per cent. The last time I was through there I noticed some improvements being done to the front, but I haven't been to Kansas City since so I