

Except for that short slump in the first half, K-State actually never had much trouble. Fischer got the Wildcats off to a good start when he hit a layup off the fast break and then canned the first two of eight straight free throws.

Parr gave a hint of what was to come when he scored the Wildcats' next four points on tip-ins. The big center acted as a human backboard on several of his baskets, shoving teammates' missed shots back into the netting.

Reed and Du-Wayne Blackshear, who hit 14 points, sparked Tech's best rally. A pair of free shots by Reed gave Tech its first lead at 25-24, and the teams swapped one-point leads eight times before K-State finally pulled away.

The Wildcats outscored the Texans, 10-2, during the final four minutes of the first half. Parr's tip-ins accounted for four of those points, and Vicens also got four on a short jump shot and a pair of free throws.

That was the ball game for all practical purposes, and coach Tex Winter let the subs begin mopping up with eight minutes still to go in the second half.

K-STATE (89)

	Fg-Fga	Ft-Fta	Pf	Tp
Fischer .....	4- 6	10-11	4	18
Powell .....	3- 4	1- 2	0	7
Stone .....	3-16	0- 2	2	6
Hutchins .....	0- 0	0- 0	0	0
Parr .....	7-13	8-12	5	22
Schneider .....	7-10	0- 2	3	14
Vicens .....	3-14	5- 9	3	11
Wallace .....	1- 1	3- 4	1	5
Wilson .....	3- 5	0- 2	1	6
Totals .....	31-67	27-44	19	89

TEXAS TECH (70)

	Fg-Fga	Ft-Fta	Pf	Tp
Gibson .....	1- 1	0- 2	0	2
Blackshear .....	5-11	4- 4	3	14
Redwine .....	0- 1	2- 2	0	2
Reed .....	5-14	8-10	5	18
Smith .....	1- 1	0- 0	1	2
Wilson .....	0- 0	0- 0	0	0
Underwood .....	1-14	3- 4	3	2
Buchanan .....	0- 0	2- 2	0	0
Carpenter .....	3- 6	2- 5	5	2
Newton .....	4-10	2- 4	3	11
Scaling .....	2- 2	0- 2	1	2
Cummings .....	2- 9	1- 2	2	2
Totals .....	24-69	22-37	23	70

Halftime Score: Kansas State, 40-33.

Officials: Kenneth Pryor, Tom Glenn.

Texas Coach Denies