

leaping juniors, Gary Padgett, Greenleaf letterman, and Chris Divich, Doland, S.D. squadman, plus the veteran sharpshooter, Larry Davenport, are manning the frontline behind Elstun and King.

Bill Brainard, only 6-3, but elusive and surprisingly tough off the boards, backs Johnson in the pivot. He tied the tournament single-game free throw mark of 14 in the finals last year against Oklahoma. Seniors John Anderson, Bill Heitholt, and Frank Wolfe, plus two sophomores, Ronnie Johnston and Blaine Hollinger, fleet little Russelite, prop the backline.

Allen has been known to go far with less material than this. Too, the sight of those red shirts harrassing on the front line, piling in on the rival pivot man, and punching home the goals they need

Too, the sight of those red shirts... regardless of who's in 'em... harassing on the front line, piling in on the rival pivot, getting baskets in the clutch, and playing with frantic abandon, can do things to an enemy's mental processes.

The defending champions are expected to get by Iowa State in their first round dual in Tuesday's leadoff game, but either don't expect them to reach the finals.

COMPOSITE TOURNAMENT STANDINGS

	T	W	L	Pct.	Pts.	Op. Pts.	Championship
Southern Methodist	1	3	0	1.000	151	135	1
Kansas State	8	18	6	.750	1599	1424	3
Kansas	8	17	7	.708	1525	1383	2
Oklahoma A & M	1	2	1	.667	134	129	0
Michigan	1	2	3	.667	162	159	0
Minnesota	1	2	1	.667	198	189	0
Stanford	1	2	1	.667	249	238	0