it was reiter, who stumbled thru a bad first half with only four ^{goals} ~~goals~~, who yanked the tigers out of danger with ~~an~~ ^{a personal} ~~points~~ spree when ou pressed ~~down~~ within one point for the third and final time, at 61-62.

filbert canned two free throws to erect a three-point spread, then, with 11 minutes left, reiter took command by nailing eight of mu's next 12 points.

when he finished the bengals were riding on top, 74-65 with 8:12 to go. stewart stretched this cushion to 11 a moment later on two free throws and the redshirts never were able to pull closer than five points ~~thereafter~~ thereafter.

twice when the sooners pressured within seven points in the last four minutes, filbert broke away for clean crips out of the delay pattern.

lane, ~~peck~~ ^{lynn hart,} and peck drew help from walt abbey and sam thompson in hauling the oklahomans back from that 14-point burial under which missouri held them with only two minutes gone in the last half.

with ou trailing, 38-52, hart got the surge under way with two free throws. thompson ~~hit~~ ~~move~~ followed with a hook, and, after stewart jumped from the baseline, lane and abbey hooked-up three consecutive charities.

park got two points back with a ~~short~~ righti from inside the freethrow line, but peck and abbey followed with quick buckets and it was 49-56 with ~~15:39~~ only 4:41 gone.

lane then drew the noose to three points with two charities and a short righthander
