

Once again they stalled until less than 15 seconds were left. Then they moved in, and Peck fired the clincher from about 10 feet out. Colorado never had a chance to retaliate.

Peck, 5-9, and Lane, 5-10, two of the smallest in Oklahoma's stable of basketball runts, put on a great show. Peck hit 18 points, including the dramatic winners, and Lane connected for 31. Lane, tournament scoring champion here last year, hit 13 field goals, most of them from far out.

Oklahoma, which barely manages to muster a six-foot average for its squad, was whipped in rebounds, 55-38, by the heavily favored Buffs. But the Sooners hit 25 of 54 shots from the field for 46 per cent.

After a tight first half in which Oklahoma led most of the time, altho Colorado owned a 37-35 lead at intermission, the Buffs built their biggest leads midway in the second half. These were brief margins of six points at 65-59 and 67-61.

Then Oklahoma closed in, and dealt the Buffs their fourth straight loss after a three-game winning streak at the start of the season.

Missouri, winning its fifth game against two losses, built a 35-29 halftime lead over Nebraska, and then widened that to 21 points at 72-51 four minutes before the end.

The Huskers, making their first appearance here under new

(Continued on Page 10, Column 4)