Kansas State setting a new scoring high for a regulation game, Kansas State ripped Iowa State, 98-77, to gain fifth place in the afternoon consolation bracket. The most record is 103, which Stanford nailed in a 103-102 over Iowa State in the 1951 consolations. However, that game was played under experimental rules.

Colorado snapped its seven-game losing streak in the seventh place playoff with a 71-60 victory over Washington in the leadoff afternoon affair. The defeat left the Huskies still looking for their first victory in seven games this season.
