pivot men again is expected to hold most of the individual interest in the sixth annual big seven tournament this week in kansas city. but four undersized backliners, two each from nebraska and kansas state, easily could steal the show.

this numricer lightning quartet includes the miritiank wildcats' bob rousey and jim iverson and joe good and jim m buchanan of the comhuskers. they'll be broght into ficus early since the two clubs collide in thursday night's lid-lifter at 8 p.m. in municipal auditorium.

at 6-1 good, son of scarlet coach harry good, is the tallest of the four. buchanan stands 6-0; rousey and iverson 5-11. buchanan was an all-tournament choice last year and ranked seventh on meet scoring tables with 45 points.

among the loop's top ten scerers through the earky games. enjoying four 7-goal nights, a buchanan trails only ku's massive clyde lovellette, and the 6-6 dick knostman of kansas state, among conference pointsmiths with 100 in seven games. iversen is fifth with 89, rousey sixth at 76. good has hit 46 points even though missing two of the huskers' seven games.

weapons, quick-reaction, burning speed and sharp basket eyes. buchanan is one of the few good remaining two-hand set shots in big seven circles. he also can drive and jump-shoot. iverson and rousey are particularly good wax fortx with one-handers from 15 to 25 feet, and running pumps off the wildcats fast break. good missed the first coule of games but poured home 17 bpoints gax against tou thursday night in dallas to a wall among the scoring leaders.

aside from lovellette, currently the nation's leading covered scorer, these two sentinel tandems will pose the toughest defensive problem in the tourney. the fact that they are concentrated on two clubs means that opponents may be obliged to dig deep into their ranks to find two blanks blanks of similar speed and cleverness.

riahoma in the first round of last years meet with a running right hander in he fading seconds which broke a 53-53 tie. Everyvalue the meet also projected buxeyyxthexvavavavavavayx rousey, then a sophomore, as a fine all-round hand.

battle of the keyhole. he will come into the meet leading the nation's major college scorers with an average of 28. 1 in seven games. his latest blast was a 30-point keeds charge against ruggeds brawny southern cal in lawrence saturday night.

two other returning post veterans are jim stange,

Lamgatedv bepsectacled 6-7 lowa stater, and missouri's a rugged bill stauffer kha one of the nation's ranking recounders last winter.

newcomers include charles ott, 6-6, 220-pound nebraska freshman; bob reiter, spike -built missouri 6-8 yearling; and oklahom sophomore jerryx bob waller, 6-6, and

k-state's jack carby, the loop's ninth ranking scorer, at resent, is another pivet who will bear watching. he'll be returning after a year's absence from tournament play since he were ku silks in the 1949 affair, before transferring.

the huge kansas cityan stands 6-7 and scales can their first round games ... his duel with lovellette, will be enough to pack the house.

The second of th

with iowa state's 57-68 loss to drake saturday night in des moines, kansas will enter the tournament as the conference's only unbeaten club. stanford, the gues team, also will bring a 7-0 record to the auditorium planks.

lawrence, kan., dec. 21 ( sunday copy) ... itsvavx opponents will tell you its a good thing kansas and kansas state avavianthem were drawn in the same bracket for the sixth big seven basketball tournament beginning a four-day run in kansas city wednesday. that way the carnage will take place in only one tier.

there never has been more solid faxx pair of favorites in meet history than the current jayhawkers and wildcats. Muchox phog allen's troupe tackles colorado in its first assignment wednesday. the purple meets nebraska in thursday's lid-lifter. Kwevrizhindax both are expected to win, and if so, will collide in the second round of the max upper bracket. the wiseacres say this will be the finals one night early.

through games of december 21, the two sunflower titems had dropped only one game between them in 13 starts kansas went into saturday night's tussle with use in lawrence working on a six-game winning streak. statexhadxbawsdx invaded bloomington, ind. to face the hoosiers with a 6-1 mark the wildcats have fallen only before tough san francisco, 52-55. they snapped an 81-game home court winning streak in tucson by whipping arizona, 76-57, in the leadoff game of the same trip, they whacked hamlin's naibxkings; vx towering naib kings, 92-73, in manhattan, to establish a new school non-conference score mark.

both clubs are using the same famux formulae that marked their ascension as the big seven's 1-2 quintets last year. the jayhawks himse always anchor their winning hopes to the nation's most murderous one-man scoring threat, clyde (mount) lovellette.

well for the kansans for three seasons. and the old battle wagon is rolling at an even more heated pace as he begins his senior hitche his 27.8 scoring average on 167 points currently isx tops the nation's major collegiate point-smiths. having mit x been restricted to less than 24 points in a single outing.

and he wrecked smu dec, 14 in dallas with a new school individual high of

42. more eminous is the fact that his shooting percentage from the field is .52.

itxisvaviactx although he'll face sturdier opposition in tournament play, cumulus clyde always has found the municipal auditorium planks a friendly range, he never has scored less than 20 in any single game and last year established a single meet mark of 84.

the jayhawks can, and do must murder, misself sagging or zone defense with nifty outside shooting from hix three other veterans bill lienhard, bill houghand and bob kenney. they will face the tourney test m minus the services of regular guard charlie hoag, who is not yet recovered from a football groin injury.

the jayhawks have somewhat more depth than last season, but they milit must call on more aggressiveness and fire itxtimy varavivagetx displayed
inxthextrum amantykingx than they have displace in most of their wins to date, if they are to reach the tournament king row, however.

the defending champion wildcats, although losing four top-flight regulars, appear as fermdiable as ever with another buck-shot attack which goes two teams deep. through their first seven games, kimax jack gardner's purple pillagers boasted six men within a scoring radius of 48 and 79 points. junior dick knostman tops the brigade with 79, but every one of the others, bob rousely, jim iverson, jack carby, jesse prisock and gene wilson, can ruin any foe on a given night. the cats always have three or four men in double figures and gardners doesn't humintetx hesitate to alternate at least ten hands against any foe.

big horses under the boards in the 6-7, 235-pound carby, knostman, who is 6-6 by 210, and prisock i who was 215 pounds over the combination with three and two nifty scooters in rousey, and probably the league's top sophomore last year, and iverson.

impressively by whaling two big ten entries, purdue and ohio state, then hit their peak last week in annihilating hamline, they struck the pipers like a whirlwind to run up a quick 27-7 first quarter lead.

this club does not carry the experience of last year's stone-head-barrett-hitch axis, but is bigger, just as fast, just as deep and justs more as augusts ag ressive. carby possibly is the loops most agile pachyderm. prisock carries highway and wilson carry high gloss for sophomores. jim smith, brainerd, minn. freshman, is good enough to force his way into occasional playing time.

although its first four games and missouri is well-regarded, neither figures to challenge the twin kansas expresses who are setting such a smoking early season pace. stanford, herveneverexeinegen this year's guest team, has ripped off six consecutive victories to open its season, but the opposition has not been steut.

if k-state can bag the meet again it will be the first team to repeat since the event was founded in 1946. kansas has twice reached the finals, losing to smm in '46 and to oklahoma in '48.

lawrence, kan., dec. 24...only three players, jim buchanan, nebraska sanivavx guard; iowa state's 6-7 center, hijim stange, and missouri's rebound horse, bill stauffer, are conceeded a chance of breaking into the big seven basketball tournament's career scoring elite this week.

the sixth annual show music begins unfolding wednesday in kansas city's municipal auditorium and this virious every member doubtless will carve a spot somewhere in the first ten of all-time meet point makers.

20 buchanan, the scarlet's fine all-round senior, needs only in points to dislodge a former temmmate, bus whitehead, now with phillips 66, for a spot in the current top ten. stange needs only 21. staufer stauffer needs xix 32, and average of slightly more than 10 points per tournament game.

jim iverson, kansas state's steady senior guard, next in line among this year's assault crew, is 53 points away, something that would take a 17.4 point per game average to accomplish.

only four men crashed the upper crust last year, and one of them, jerry waugh, of kansas, was a four-year hand. he and ernie barrett, kansas state all-american, moved into second place at 101 points. wayne tucker and of colorado, and bob pierce, whitehead's towering successor at nebraska, were the other two.

hereviex only active member of the top ten in this year's tourney will be k clyde lovellette, ku's gigantic scoring machin, who already has taken a wide lead in only six games. he now rests at 146 points for two meets and will raise the ceiling every time he notches a point beginning wednesday night against colorado.

here is the way the all-time list reads now:

	8	fg	ft	mft	pf	tp
clyde	lovellette, kansas 6	62	22	10	21	146
ernie	barrett, kansas state 9	43	15	7	30	101

bob pierce, nebraska	9	28	31	14	26	87
bus whitehead, nebraska	9	34	18	5	27	86 per game; vbushanax through the tournament, buchanan can leap as high as second place on this list. he has canned an even 100 points in nebraska's first seven games.

would push lovellette to the astronomical figure of 230 tournament points in just three years. cumulus clyde is traveling at a 28.1 per game pace, tightening his grip on the maximulaxeevx neas scoring leadership last saturday with a 30-point slave against new usc.

tournament notes: the meet will draw two of 17 remaining undefeated teams in major college competition kansas and colorado will yank up the curtain at 8 p.m. wednesday. oklahoma and stanford follow at 9:45. kansas state's defending champions tackle nebraska in thursday's curtain-raiser with missouri and iowa state following.

consolation play will open friday afternoon and extent loser's bracket play will open friday afternoon and extend through saturday afternoon. winner's bracket semfinals are billed friday afternoon and finals saturday night. khirdvriausvuithxbsvissidedx the semifinal losers will play saturday night's opener.

tournament notes the meet will sport two of the nation's .7 remaining & undefeated major teams in kansas and stanford... the jayhawks have wen their first seven, the indians their first eight... by wincingex successfully defending its championship kansas state can become the first team in meet history to cop two inverseway attaight crowns.... stanford will savey vive heat a meet the tourney with the best record among compebing teams, but its title chances can't be considered bright.... no guest club ever has won the affair since smu took the opener from kansas in 1946.... and there were two invited fives that year since colorade is did not join the old big six until 1947 wife at the beginning of the 1947-48 bask etball season..... oklahoma and kansas state will go into the meet atop the composite all-time standings with 11 victories and four losses each.

lawrence, kan. dec. 25 (change dateline to ke) ... hubbed by its prelific pachyderm, clyde lovellette, kansas, one of two pre-tournament favorites, yanks up the curtain on the sixth annual big seven basketball meet in municipal auditorium here wednesdx at 8 p.m. against colorado.

oklahoma, once a champion and once a runner-up, tackles stanford, this year's guest team, in the second half of the twin-bill at 9:45 p.m.

the second half of first round play will be completed thursday with kansas state's defending champions hitting nebraska at 8 p.m. and missouri closing against lowa state in the nightcap.

withvirix semificals are booked friday night and finals saturday for the four-day event. its restance losing teams will play in their own bracket beginning friday afternoon with each club entered assured of three games regardless of them its record.

smu's 1946 champions tied for second in the southwest 1947 conference race of 1948 behind texas' western near kimyx runners-up. kansas state upset oklahoma a & m in the 1947 finals, then sped on to grab their first league champions hip since 1919. oklahoma beat kansas in '48 then tied nebraska for the big seven crown. k-state came back last year, clubbing minneset; in the finals, then roared to the finals of the near in minneapolis.

misseuri 's 1949 champions, which ambushed oklahoma, are the bone exception to the toirnament rale. the tigers tailed off badly after their kansas caty conquest to finish in sixth place in the title chase at 4-8.

as always there will be much at stake in the ku-k-state scrap. the allenmen will be putting an II-game winning streak on the line, eight of which have been compiled this season. kansas also crept past ther up-river rival in the latest ap poll, landing fourth while state was sinking to eighth. this game is certain to have direct bearing on these standings.

the cats, of course, would like to keep their crown, and they figure to do it if they get kex by kansas. by sweeping the tourney they not only would be the first team to repeat on two successive years, but the first to attain three circumstants titles in the meet's sixyear history.

more combustible than these reasons will be the first face-off between the jayhawks, mammonth center, clyde (mount lovellette, and a former teammate, jack carby, now of the wildcats. the latter played behind the terre haute terror in most instances through their sophomore year at mt. oread. the rivalry was keen then and is certain to be at fever-magile pitch now. carby, a 6-7, 235-pounder, enrolled at state in spetember, 1950, after dropping out of ku at at mid-semester the same year.
