

gardner can floor the perfect combination with three big horses under the boards in the 6-7, 235-pound carby, knestman, who is 6-6 by 210, and priseck ~~1 who carries 215 pounds on a six 6-5 frames~~ ^{by}, and two nifty scooters in rousey, ~~and~~ probably the league's top sophomore last year, and iversen.

~~knestman~~ last year's ~~was~~ neaa runners-up opened impressively by whaling two big ten entries, purdue and ohio state, then hit their peak last week in annihilating hamline. they stuck the pipers like a whirlwind to run up a quick 27-7 first quarter lead.

this club does not carry the experience of last year's stone-head-barrett-hitch axis, but is bigger, just as fast, just as deep and ~~just~~ more ~~as rugged~~ aggressive. carby possibly is the loop's most agile pachyderm. priseck ~~carries high gloss for sophomores~~ and wilson carry high gloss for sophomores. jim smith, brainerd, minn. freshman, is good enough to force his way into occasional playing time.

altho gh iowa ~~state~~ state was undefeated through its first four games and missouri is well-regarded, neither figures to challenge the twin kansas expresses who are setting such a smoking early season pace. stanford, ~~this year's guest team~~, has ripped off six consecutive victories to open its season, but the opposition has not been stout.

if k-state can bag the meet again it will be the first team to repeat since the event was founded in 1946. kansas has twice reached the finals, losing to smu in '46 and to oklahoma in '48.
