

la grange, ill. v forward has ~~summed up~~ enjoyed two large bights in his last two starts, whisking in 21 points against iowa ~~two games~~ a few days before ~~this~~ ~~was~~ ~~wednesday~~ ~~night~~ ~~xx~~ wednesday's blast.

as always there will be much at stake in the ku-k-state scrap. the allenmen will be putting an 11-game winning streak on the line, eight of which have been compiled this season. kansas also crept past their up-river rival in the latest ap poll, landing fourth while state was sinking to eighth. this game is certain to have direct bearing on these standings.

the cats, of course, would like to keep their crown, and they figure to do it if they get ~~max~~ by kansas. by sweeping the tourney they not only would be the first team to repeat on two successive years, but the first to attain three ~~clear-cut~~ titles in the meet's six-year history.

more combustible than these reasons will be the first face-off between the jayhawks, mammoth center, clyde (mount) lovellette, and a former teammate, jack carby, now of the wildcats. the latter played behind the terre haute terror in most instances through their sophomore year at mt. oread. the rivalry was keen then and is certain to be at fever-pitch now. carby, <sup>an agile</sup> 6-7, 235-pounder, enrolled at state in september, 1950, after dropping out of ku at mid-semester the same year.

there also is more than usual interest in the losers' bracket due to the rules experiment on the free throw. ~~now~~ ~~gratis~~ ~~xx~~ ~~xx~~ this provides that no gratis tosses may be waived during any portion of the game. however, the offended team will maintain possession of the ball following all successful charities, putting it into play from out of bounds.

drake, chairman of the basketball rules committee, will, of course, be able to observe the scheme first hand.
