Mr. C. Korte,
The Bask-O-Lite Company,
New Albany, Indiana.

Dear Mr. Korte:

I beg to acknowledge receipt of your kind favor of the 14th instant, enclosing check for $45.00, for which I thank you.

The Big Six Conference meets at Lincoln, Nebraska, on May 20 and 21. We make our basketball schedule at that time and I assure you I will do everything that I can to have the Big Six Conference adopt the basket, but I am afraid of a couple of the schools because as I told you they have put a light above the basket and have some students sit at the scoring table where they switch on the light every time the ball goes through the basket. It is a mechanically operated device from the scorers bench, and not from the basket. It looks like a silly contrivance to me, because the student may think the ball is going through the basket, switch on the red light, and the ball doesn't go in.

I am going to insist that the goal is standard, and if some teams do not want to use it I am going to insist on using ours. I am sure the Bask-O-Lite goals are gaining in favor, but there is much work to be done yet to line up a lot of these fellows, as they claim the price is too high.

Any way that I can cooperate with you in helping put over this fine adjunct to basketball enthusiasm I am sure it will be a pleasure to do so.

With every good wish, I am

Sincerely yours,
