Summary of Individual Player Analysis

Player A. Guard.

This player was in 9 home games for 328.5 minutes and had a player efficiency rating of 97.3%. He was the number one man in almost any way that he could be rated. He earned 2098 evaluation points and 122 score points. He made 47 goals (32.6%) and 28 free throws (59.6%) and had a ball handling error rate of 1.17%. In earning the high scorer position on the squad he made more passes than catches. This is partly due to his willingness to cooperate and to his position as a guard. There were three men on the squad that took more shots per minute of playing time. Of these three men none had as good an average of made shots. During his long playing time he made only 13 personal fouls; two of his teammates with less playing time exceeded his total number of fouls and five teammates made more fouls per minute of playing time. He was an excellent ball handler, a dandy shot and a team player. The coach, his fellow players, the freshman squad, and the statistics are in complete agreement on his offensive ability and listed him as the number one player on the squad.

Player B. Forward and Center.

From the standpoint of time, this player played more minutes (266) than any other player except Player A. He was also second high scorer, earning 66 points by making 23 goals (27.1%) and 30 free throws (66.7%). From the standpoint of evaluation points, he was also second earning 1307 points, and had a playing efficiency of 92.2%. In ball handling errors he rated 2.9%. Six of his teammates rated poorer in this department. However, in spite of his errors in ball handling he made more passes at the opportunt time to players who scored than any other individual. Even on immediate assists per minute he rated second to only one other player, and this player played only 22.5 minutes during the season. There were four men on the squad that took more shots per minute. He was the only forward on the team to make more passes than catches who played more than 22.5 minutes. He had only 8 personal fouls and was the only player with over 200 playing minutes to have so few fouls. He was rated third by his fellow players, and second by his coach and the freshmen players.

Player C. Guard.

Player C played 263.5 minutes, earning 1300 evaluation points and 31 score points, scoring 13 goals (33.3%) and 5 free throws (71.4%). He handled the ball on passes and catches 1004 times which is the second greatest number on the squad and had a ball handling error rate of 1.7% which is next to that of players A and G. This player took a total of 39 shots and this is the smallest number of shots for any of the players that had over 200 minutes of playing time. As a guard he was in position to recover rebounds from off the opponent's backboard. He recovered 48 times, as compared to Player A's 50 times, and on a basis of recoveries per minute of playing time he is the leader for the team. This player passed the ball 128 times more than he caught it. On the basis of the data gathered this player is a good ball passer and rebound recoverer, which is a great asset to the team. On ball handling he has a very low percentage of errors and has a playing efficiency of 96.4% which makes him the number two man on the squad. His teammates rated him second on offensive ability, and his coach and the freshmen rated him third.
