

less unwillingly with Dad. She still isn't herself. It seems like she hasn't been ^{herself} since taking care of Grandpa. I'm not saying so because she's my mother but I think she is one of the grandest persons God ever created. She has never lived for herself but always for others and now she's in her present condition. It really hurts me more than anything else in the world. If there is any spiritual reward, it certainly will be hers.
I only wish I didn't feel the way I do regarding Uncle Pete but unfortunately I do. Maybe in time I can feel differently but it will only be
