

whom I've known almost my entire life. We had attended school together from the 1st grade to graduation. She was student body secretary (the highest honor) of the student body the same time I was student pres.

It is needless to say we're both very happy. We've had a little tough luck lately but I'm sure sunshine is just around the corner. The baby had to be taken Caesarian. My wife was in a serious condition for a day or so. She had to stay in the hospital a little over two weeks but she got out today + seems to be doing fine. Yesterday the babies
