* * *

A long time ago, in our November 28 issue, we said, quote: "The Hon. Mr. Peters has wrested High 10 and High 30 honors away from competitors for the present, having 739 for three-game total and 280 for single game (both figures include handicap.)"

Then in our last issue we very consistently gave top honors to Paul Kirk with 275 and 687. We modestly allotted second place to ourselves. Now that ain't right. "As any fool can plainly see," Lil' Abner would say.

Frank Peters is still high in one and three-game totals, with Paul Kirk second in High 10 and Chas. Dwyer second in High 30 with 720, completely eliminating Ye Poor Ed, or poor Ye Ed, as the case grammatically may be.

Oh, well, we were King for a day, or at least Heir Apparent, even though unconstitutionally. Our apologies.

That being dispensed with, we note some more new bowlers doing right well, namely: Messrs. Alderson, Seitter, Clemenson, et al. (We'll tell you Al's last name at the proper time.)

Meanwhile, several of our bowlers are having frequent practice during lunch hour at either the Palace or downtown Veretta's. With apparent benefits thereby.

The season's more than half-way over, and the teams are primed for the home stretch. The leaders have set the pace. Can they hold it? Can a dark horse win? Will Mobilgas and Old American Repeat? This and other gruesome discoveries will be revealed in our next issue. Buy it hot off the press! . . . Wups! We've been reading too many continued stories an' it finally got us.

Anyhow, why don't cha come out on Friday nights to Cocked Hat an' watch th' boys?
