

February 10, 1941

Mr. Morris L. Mason
American National Bank Bldg.
St. Joseph, Missouri

Dear Mr. Mason:

Arthur Spangberg is in the office and he is very disturbed because he has repeatedly written and called home regarding some money that he states should be forthcoming.

It is necessary for him to pay his tuition and his enrollment fees or else he will not be accepted in school. He has no money for board or room and it is my impression that he was to get a loan from you. We have given him work as we have promised and he is doing nicely, but you can imagine the mental state of affairs that he labors under when he is promised money and none is to be had.

Arthur called his mother and his mother states you are holding back, waiting on the draft progress or findings. Would it not be fair that you make some decision at once and advise Arthur and me as to what your conclusions are? The boy cannot study nor can he work as well as if he knew things were definitely decided.

Trusting that you will let us know at once, I am,

Sincerely yours,

Director of Physical Education and Recreation
Varsity Basketball Coach

FCA:hg