Budget Committee:

Apropos of the compulsory physical education status at different schools, here is a communication from Los Angeles that I thought would perhaps indicate the trend of the times. The fact that U.S.C. is on the coast perhaps makes this more urgent than a location in the midlands. But the trend is undoubtedly indicated by this AP article.

U.S.C. STUDENTS
IN ATHLETIC DRILL
ONE HOUR A DAY

Los Angeles, March 23 (AP)--
Male students under 25 at the University of Southern California will soon be spending one hour each day, five days a week, in a broad program of rugged physical activity.

Dr. Rufus B. von KleinSmid announced the new program. To be put into effect next fall, if not this summer, it is a move to ready men for war.
