smaller schools. Group I includes those schools whose enrollments are above 500; Group 2 those between 200 and 500; Group 3 those between 100 and 200; and Group 4 those below 100. The second table is self-explanatory: 5.11% of the total boys who engaged in athletics in the schools in Group 2 were over the twenty-year age limit while only 2.61% of the boys in the schools of Group 4 were over the limit. These figures may be worth something to the school men who are interested in a new age limit for athletes.
