

January 19, 1943.

Mr. Marshall Hulett,
Mr. Harold Wright.

Dear Marsh and Harold:

Frankly I have not been too tremendously pleased with the administration of the towel room even after you boys have taken over. You have not done a bad job, but it has not been wholly satisfactory. There has been too much in losses from the baskets. Whether this is due to carelessness or connivance of towel room boys with someone on the outside, or to theft, I am not sure, but we are meeting some very unhappy situations.

The loss of keys to the auxiliary room is inexcusable. These things all tend to break down the morale that should exist in a highly efficient organization.

I am therefore appointing Ralph Schaake chief supervisor over you two boys with the direction to him to discuss with you two fellows every angle of the situation with a view to making it run as it should. I have empowered him to discuss with you your time and work, and if your time is sufficient to continue on the same financial basis as at present to leave it that way, but if you are not putting in enough time to adjust it according to the situation.

Very sincerely yours,

Director of Physical Education,
Varsity Basketball Coach.

While both systems include exactly the same numbers, each beginning with "1" and ending with "210" an improvement seems obvious. A distinct attainment is the correlated groupings reducing number disparity within definite range, in the original, as 1 to 190, or 11 to 200 in contrast with 1 to 10, or 191 to 200 in the revised. Also, while in the original system each unit digit appears two or three times on every shelf elevation, in the revised each unit digit recurs always on the same shelf elevation which holds throughout the entire eight banks of basket shelves.

Dear Friends:

The above mentioned men were not in attendance at the meeting of the towel room employees last night. I realize that Ellis Nicolet and Paul Carpenter were waiting table and were not able to present. However, on these meeting nights when an urgent meeting is called we expect all members present even though some arrangement has to be made for the job at hand.

Hereafter, when a meeting of this kind is called there will be a fine of 35¢ assessed for each absence. As we pay 35¢ for attendance that will make a loss of 70¢ for the hour if you do not attend.

As emphasized before, these are important meetings and when I call a meeting I definitely want you present if you expect to continue as an employee.

Very sincerely yours,

Director of Physical Education,
Varsity Basketball Coach.
