

UNITED STATES NAVY

go into town; instead I take in a show every evening over at the receiving station or at the Base, both of which are pretty close to my quarters here.

My roommate is from New York. He played two years of basketball at N.Y.U. Every afternoon this week, we have spent at least 3 hrs. over at the gymnasium working out. He is an Italian boy, and his name is Tony Succa. He has a very good long shot and is a very good floor man. All you have to do is screen off for him, and he'll put it in alright. I still work on my hook shot, but believe it or not I take time and look at the basket a little quicker now and try to mix a faint in here and there. It's a cinch I get a good workout anyway, for we usually have some type of game going on all the time. I think it's time well spent anyway.

I can't think of anything else to rattle on about so had better end this up. Tell all the faculty and the boys I know "hello" for me. I suppose I could rattle