Dear Cap:

Yes, I did know that Jack Buckman from Argentine High School had entered K.U. Principal Harmon called me two or three times before Buckman came down.

I knew all about the unfortunate experience in the high school. In fact, I wrote him a letter in long hand as soon as the incident happened and admonished him to keep a "lip upper stiff". I told him that all of us made mistakes, and that if he did not make the same mistake again he would perhaps profit by his error.

One unfortunate thing about Jack is that on the very day he came down here to enroll he took very ill. He is now in the University hospital and has been for over a week. The case was diagnosed as intestinal influenza, but he has some trouble with the blood corpuscles. The granular type and the oval type are just reversed, which any physician would say is not a healthy condition, so they have him over there under observation.

I wish you would keep this in entire confidence as the physicians, of course, would not want to spread such a statement as it might give rise to wild rumor. I would say that the boy has a serious illness, but one which, I hope, is amenable to treatment. They have not been able to diagnose the case as yet, although he is much better and more hopeful of a speedy recovery. However, it does interfere terribly with his school work, and I am afraid he will get so far behind that he will not be able to make the grade.

By the way, Cap, can you order three or four of those bone ends for the gold clubs? I don't care whether the numbers are on them or not. I just want to plug up the openings. They all seem to come out so easily that I believe the fellow that
