

Upon first glance this would seem like a great number of hours to ask for at one time, but when one considers the necessity of offering hours that would not have been taken as required courses by our undergraduate majors, and also the necessity of offering courses of a practical nature to Summer Session students, and the rotation of our instructional staff, makes a larger number of hours necessary.