We are faced with two main problems:

THE RESERVE THE PARTY OF THE PA

First: Since it seems necessary to move Junior and Semior courses up to the Graduate numbers, the first problem is to offer a sufficient number of hours so that students who have taken the major in our own department can secure at least 15 hours of a Graduate level.

Socond: To keep in mind the Summer Session graduate student so that his schedule is so rotated that he can secure emough hours so that he can graduate without unnecessary delay.

Regarding this second point - the courses in Treatment of Athletic Injuries and Kinesiology carry prerequisites of Anatomy 50. This would no doubt necessitate the asking for a 5-hour course in Anatomy at some time in the future. Some students will have had the prerequisite, but I am pointing out that fact as a possible future necessity.

Third: Courses of the 200 and 300 level will of necessity have a small enrollment for the first few summers.

Any course numbered 500 would of necessity need only Graduate School action.

New courses suggested with 200 numbers would need School of Education action also.

However, any Graduate number would need Graduate faculty approval.
