A "normal" life here would mean free-willed pursuance of matters friendly, intellectual and avocational. Now there are many who ^{can} think of "normal" in this sense, as being able to live at least a few hours a day outside a fap-hole, I these same men regard a dry pair of socks as being fairly equal to a wing-side seat at the square. With them the once insignificant has become significant.

Godad my fortune is great!
