

September 13, 1937.

Mr. Warren V. Woody, Agency Manager,
The Equitable Life Assurance Society,
Room 2136,
120 S. LaSalle Street,
Chicago, Illinois.

Dear Warren:

I was delighted to hear from you again.

Ralph Miller is enrolled and happy at the University of Kansas, and the fact that he is a fine student and a dandy fellow makes things look bright.

George Nettels stopped by the other day and he, too, was terribly disappointed in John. George told me that he said to Bunn just a couple of months ago when Nettels was visiting Bunn in California, "John, you lay off of that boy Miller. He belongs to Kansas and you shouldn't bother him." John replied, "Don't worry about him. I am not even bothering him. We know we haven't a chance."

When George got back and found what Bunn had done, Mr. Nettels was very irate. His choicest invectives were called into action and he put hyper-emphasis upon some of the superlatives.

But I imagine some fellows when they see a good fellow like Miller just can't leave him alone. So much for that worry.

Young Martin was in the office this morning and I have an appointment with him this afternoon.

I haven't seen Merkel and Earl Close as yet. However, Close's transcript came in this morning and I sent it over to the Registrar so that they would have it in ample time. As soon as these boys come in I will make a special point to take Earl under my wing and do the things that you want me to do for him.

You know I would do this for you, Warren, because you have been so wonderful to the Allen