Dear Phog:

In the course of an inspection of the buildings yesterday to be sure they were in the best possible shape for the opening of school I took a look at your swimming pool and was rather distressed to learn from the janitor that it is leaking at the rate of five thousand gallons a day. This is a wasteful expenditure of water that seems to me serious.

I would appreciate it if you would investigate the possible causes and cures and let me know sometime what the problem is.

Sincerely yours,

Deane W. Malott
Chancellor
