Chancellor Deane W. Malott,
University of Kansas.

Dear Chancellor Malott:

As you know, we lost Wayne Replogle to the Navy. The draft board is blowing hot down Reginald Strait's neck and before January first it is my opinion that he will be gone. Strait hadn't been notified and he thought he was fairly safe, but he found out that his draft board had run out of the kind of stationery for such notification, and he is sitting on a hot spot right now. He is trying to beat them to the draw but is not at all confident that he will make it.

We would like authority to get someone to replace at least one of these men right away. We are having much irritation and travail; but some day all our troubles will cease. Selah.

Cordially yours,
