

April 15, 1930.

Chancellor E. H. Lindley,
University of Kansas,
Lawrence, Kansas.

Dear Dr. Lindley:

After returning home from the Central District Physical Education convention at Sioux City, and the meeting of the American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation at San Francisco, I have the following names to submit to you for possible consideration for the vacancy in the Department of Physical Education.

Dr. Joy Kistler, Ph. D., Assistant Professor of Physical Education at the State University of Iowa. Dr. Kistler graduated from Central College, Fayette, Missouri, and then took graduate work in an institution the name of which I am not sure, and finally took his Ph. D. from the University of Iowa. He teaches educational subjects in the School of Education, as well as Physical Education subjects in the same school.

You will remember that Dr. Kistler is the gentleman that I asked Dr. Eibel to interview two years ago toward the possibility of his coming here. We could not offer him summer school work at that time, which would have been an inducement for him to come to Kansas. It is my understanding that he is now drawing $2800.00 for his regular salary, with the summer salary at Iowa nearly $600.00. It would be necessary that we guarantee him summer employment to interest him at this time. He has already closed with Iowa for his summer teaching work this year.

Strong Heman, Director of Physical Education and Health, in the Kansas City, Missouri, public schools, has a master's degree from Springfield, Mass., Y.M.C.A. College; is past president of the American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation, and is really one of the national leaders in his field. He went from Wichita, Kansas, where he had served as director of health and physical education for more than a dozen years, to the Kansas City, Missouri, public schools at $5,000.00 a year. Just after he started upon his duties at Kansas City this fall he received a cut of $200.00. A few months later the tax situation explained another cut of $600.00. He is now drawing $4200.00 net in the Kansas City schools. He is not pleased with the situation and he would be favorable to an interview with our people.