

imagine, I got the signalman hot on the blinker & sure enough he was over there so grabbed a boat & found him lazily stretched out on a lunch sound asleep - We really passed our old times and spent all evening firing questions and answers back & forth. His well & happy as can be out here & is doing a good job - He told me about his experiences on Bougainville - Must have been quite a sensation but as before his just the man to get tough jobs done - The next day he came over for lunch & we started afresh on where & what everyone was doing - To top it all off we discovered that Kanaga was on a ship about 1000 yards the other way
