

February 14, 1942.

Mr. Roy Calhoun,
Tower Petroleum Building,
Dallas, Texas.

Dear Roy:

Your brother, Lee, came in for the Creighton game and we had a fine visit. Lee talked to Milton about his application at the FBI office, and Milton stated that he had written you in Dallas. But Lee said that you did not get his letter. I had intended to write you, also, but in the rush of things this was not done.

I just want to thank you for your offer to help Milton. I believe that he has the qualifications and will be called soon. At least I hope so. He is so enthusiastic about the work and I believe he will make a valuable man in this work. He is president of his senior law class, is freshman basketball coach, and is helping me with the varsity.

He has an unusual insight into the strength and weakness of the opponents, and he does not hesitate to tell me. We do not always agree on this, but that is the thing I court. I do not want too many "yes" men around me. I would rather have fellows that challenge my judgment occasionally. But he is thoroughly cooperative and his heart and soul is in the Kansas team.

He has been to the FBI office twice in Kansas City and has taken his examination, and we hope he will get his call. I believe he saw Mr. Brantley.

Anything that you could do, of course, would be greatly appreciated, but I believe his application and other credentials are in Washington now. Of course, I know nothing about it, but I am just surmising such.

With all good wishes, I am

Sincerely yours,

Director of Physical Education and Recreation,
Varsity Basketball and Baseball Coach.
