Jaycee Gridders In Glosing Game Friday

By ED GREENBLATT

Closing the Glendale JC gridiron log book, Mentors Tommy Ryan and Gene Wolfe send their fighting Cowboys against the Pasadena Bulldogs this Friday night in the Rose Bowl. The Rose boys have a slight edge over the Vaqueros, mainly due to the 27-0 beating they handed the Compton Tartars. The Beach boys gave the Cowboys a 19-0 wacking. To the score matchers this will give the Bulldogs a decided factual edge over the Glendale squad. But—the boys out on the practice field are hitting harder than ever in practice sessions and physically the ball club has never been better. The return of Gene Purtell, blocking back, will strengthen the Vaqueros offense considerably. Charlie Guzman is back in the "pink" once more and all this with Harry Chase and Ray Castro gnashing their teeth during the practice sessions it looks as if the Vaqueros are out to pull one of the biggest upsets of the season.

Besides closing the J.C. football season, this brawl will mark the final game for a host of Cowboy regulars that will have played their last game for the "ol alma mammy." The bad news is in four names: Guzman, Purtell, Castro and dyminative Harry Chase (who is slated for all-Met this year), this is the first string back field. The line will suffer, and plenty, the loss of "Turk" Karich, guard, and Pete Vanderburg, end; two of the classiest linemen in the league. Marvin Walker, John Kenefick, Harry Lewis, Jeff Duncan and Jack Crawford will turn in their last ball game for the Vaqs; all these boys played some great ball and will be heard from in the future when they follow the pigskin to another college.

Probable starting lineups:

Glendale		Pasadena
Crawford	LER	Smith
Karich	LGR	Bishop
Peck	RGL	Smitherson
Fitzhugh	RTL	Peterson
Vanderburg	REL	Jones
Chase	Q	Leicht
Purtell	LHR	O'Donnel
Guzman	RHL	Shaffer
Castro	F	Holman

BETWEEN THE UPRIGHTS

By The Observer

And so the Vaqs face the mighty Pasadena Bulldogs in a post-season game after finishing their conference schedule with a record of 3 won and 3 lost, which netted them fourth spot in the standings. The wins were made over Ventura, Bakersfield, and Santa Monica, the first of which was an upset second only to the scoreless tie to which the Long Beach Vikings were held by a rejuvenated Ventura eleven.

To many of the Cowboy gridgers, the Pasadena battle is the last game they will play under the college's maroon and gold. Among those to whom this is the goodbye game are Harry Chase, Marvin Walker, Vladimar Karich, Russ Peck, Ray Castro, Charles Guzman, Pete Vanderburg, Gene Purtell, and John Kenefick. No words are necessary to describe their value to the squad. Others who were assets to the team are Jeff Duncan, Jack Crawford, Harry Lewis and Russ Miller.

DREAM TEAM

About this time of the year almost every football-minded person has a mania to make up his all-American football squad. Your football sports scribe therefore modestly offers his idea of a Metropolitan conference "Dream Eleven." Ends: Nowling, Long Beach; Vanderburg, Glendale. Tackles: Kohfal, Bakersfield; Sanchez, Los Angeles. Guards: Karich, Glendale; DeMeglio, Compton. Center: Panagis, Los Angeles. Quarterback: Chase, Glendale. Halfbacks: Bugbee, Compton; Fellows, Los Angeles. Fullback: Howe, Santa Monica. There it is, the all-star eleven. Now let's see how a conference sports editors' tabulation agrees with it, and then the official all-

CLASS MEETS

The Biola Bible Class of Glendale meets every Friday night at 7:30 to 9:00 p.m. at the First Evangelical Church at the corner of California and Maryland.

Dr. Reid McCullough of the Bible Institute at Los Angeles is giving inspiring studies from Ephesians; come and learn "how to speak a word in session to him that is weary."

Met eleven choices.

STATISTICS—DUE TO KENNY ROBINSON

Here are a few interesting statistics of the football season thus far, all thanks to Kenny Robinson. Of the 1377 net yards gained in 340 tries this season by the Vaqueros, quarterback Chase has gained 731 in 110 attempts for an average of 6.65 yards a try. He has punted 11 times at an average of 36.82 yards a kick. Second in line is Marvin Walker with his total gain of 223 yards in 59 tries for a 3.78 gain every time he packed the ball. He was the best punter on the squad, kicking 11 times for a 43.45 average. Following is Charles Guzman with his 145 net yards gained in 41 attempts for 3.54 yards a try. He punted five times for an average of 34.2 a boot. Bryon Walker sports a 3.83 average and Ray Castro a 2.14. The backfield average is 4.05 yards an attempt. These statistics do not include the Los Angeles game. They go to prove that no team stopped the Cowboys' attack completely.

Chase and Guzman found the Ventura game to be the easiest pickings and made a 12.6 and 8.2 average respectively. In the Santa Monica fray Chase once again exceeded a 12-yard average when he made 12.2 an attempt. In this fracas, Marvin Walker made his best average, 7.44 yards a try. Practically all this yardage was made on the ground for the local passing attack was pitiful. Only 16 of 82 attempted passes were completed. Again, Kenny, thank you.

See you at the Rose Bowl.
