Dear Friend:

It has been some years since I have written to you and I believe you will think the only time I write is when I want a favor. However here goes. In some way my copy of the poem the "Sportsman's Prayer" has been lost from my files. You sent me that copy in October 1934 and I had always kept it with other poems that I liked, but it is gone and I am presuming on good nature and asking you to please mail me another copy. Thanks in advance for this favor.

I have been back in the newspaper game for twelve years since leaving Rose Poly in Terre Haute. However I still work as an official in football and other sports. I have a son Jim Clark, 29 years old, who is busy in athletics as referee in many football and basketball games and he also coaches swimming at the Kirshbaum community center one of the big clubs in the city.

I hope you are enjoying a successful athletic season. It would seem that the U. S. is getting ready to repete in another World War and if so I am sure you will be one of the men who will help direct the athletic program just as you did some 25 years ago.

I send you best wishes and hope you success and health,
I am

Sincerely yours

Heze Clark

P. S. I will never forget that wonderful two weeks at superior Wis., when you coached basketball and Pop Warner football.
