

February 3, 1940.

Mr. D. Keedy Campbell,
Lowe & Campbell Athletic Goods Co.,
1509 Baltimore Avenue,
Kansas City, Missouri.

Dear Keedy:

I called Dr. Bice regarding Dorothy Jean and he treated her but once for a sacro-iliac subluxation, if you know what I mean, and he said that he had heard no more from her, so I take it that she is getting along very nicely.

I was glad to do what I could for Dorothy Jean because I considered it a nice opportunity to have a visit with a part, and must essay the better part, of the Campbell family. At least, I think that each succeeding generation is improving. We had a fine visit and I was glad that she dropped in for a little aid that I could render.

Yes, I remember your sacro-iliac difficulties. I would say hers is not at all serious.

Dr. L. E. Bice was the osteopathic physician. He is a graduate of Hays Teachers College where he played football and basketball, then coached at Salina and then at Holton. Later he went to Still College at Des Moines, where he played football and basketball. I refereed a good many games when he played at Hays and also at Still. He is a fine gentleman, and I am sure that you would remember him if you would see him. He has been here about ten years.

I was glad to get the letter from "Fre", but I presumed that the Medart people had called upon you. Certainly Royer, or "Fre", or you can't be expected to go out in the marts and shop for stuff; it is up to a fellow to call on you when he wants to sell anything. I assure you I have already written to the Medart people and they promised me that you will hear from them in the very near future. I would be happy for you to tell Karl and "Fre" what I have done.

I think not only have I got an excellent piece of equipment, but I have a real game that will wow the playground, the intramural and the gymnasium habitues. And the best part about it, with this sliding standard, it is an educational game because it adapts itself readily to the age and height of the youngsters concerned. Then when another group comes along with increased