Dr. Glenn Cunningham,
2270 Walton Avenue,
Apartment B-1,
New York, N. Y.

Dear Glenn:

I am in rather a transitory stage the same as you are at present. I have great ambitions for this department, but like all Kansas people, I have more ambition than money. This job offers great possibilities for the future. And when you return to Kansas after your winter running schedule, I would be happy to have you plan in your itinerary to stop off here in Lawrence so that we may discuss things in a very personal manner.

I find that I can do much better talking to a fellow than I can writing to him. If this is quite agreeable will you not let me know when you will be back in this part of the country so that we may get together?

While you have had some difficult breaks on account of this boy Fenske burning things up, I still believe that old man Cunningham will show him the famous Glenn kick. And Mr. Fenske will see a pair of heels that he has often looked at before. Here's hoping that this fact materializes in the very near future. We are all pulling for you as we have been for many years.

We are in a tougher spot than you are, Glenn. Missouri and Oklahoma each have won five and lost one. We have six games yet to play - one on Monday night with Iowa State, and then Missouri here the first of March, and we have four games away from home. They are going to be tough on us because they like to slay the Jayhawker. I am afraid Oklahoma is already gone with the championship because when they met Nebraska and Kansas State they met them in badly crippled condition. And while I wish no especial casualties for my conference opponents, I am afraid that said opponents will be in much better shape for us than they were for Missouri and Oklahoma. If we do not take Missouri at Lawrence on March 1st I will be one disappointed old man.

With all good wishes, I am

Very sincerely yours,
