Dear Dr. Allen:

Knowing your interest in preserving the high standards of sportsmanship and the Olympic ideals, we take the liberty of bringing to your attention the enclosed pamphlet entitled "Preserve the Olympic Ideal".

The pamphlet presents a description of the situation in Germany and the violation by the present regime of the Olympic regulations and of the pledges given to the International Olympic Committee, to the American Olympic Committee, and to the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States. The facts contained therein are well authenticated.

We should be interested in having your comment on this pamphlet.

Very sincerely yours,

DEPARTMENT OF PHYSICAL EDUCATION

From Letters

May 7th, 1941

Dear Fellow Member of the Athletic and Physical Education Departments:

Professor Stene of the History Department called on me on behalf of the World Student Service Fund, which is the Chinese Reconstruction Fund. I believe last year it was called the "Bowl of Rice."

You and I both know that it's not pleasant for any of us to solicit our fellow workers and ask for a part of their hard earnings, especially when these earnings have been depleted by budget curtailment and rising prices. However, all of us will agree that even as unfortunate as we may picture ourselves at times, the unfortunates in the war zones are many thousand times worse off than we. Their unfortunate plight beggars description when we try to comprehend their situation.

The K.U. goal for the World Student Service Fund is one thousand dollars. To facilitate economy of time and to allow you the proper meditation for such a gift, I am writing you a letter and inclosing a pledge card for any amount that you might feel free to give. We are not making a high pressure sales talk, nor a strenuous drive and we would say to not give a penny more than you feel you can honestly give without any high pressure action.

I realize there are so many calls that you almost develop a hyper-sales resistance, and if you do, well and good. I feel as if this will be my last contribution and then another appeal presents itself just as strong and I find myself unable to reject the pleas of the suffering and unfortunate. So, give what you can and I know that your money will go a long way toward doing the thing that in your heart you want to do.

Sincerely yours,

Chairman of the Robinson

REPORT OF THE SENATE ADVISORY COMMITTEE
RELATIVE TO PATENTING AND DEVELOPING DISCOVERIES MADE IN UNIVERSITY
LABORATORIES

TO THE SENATE:

In May, 1940, the Chancellor of the University suggested to the chairman of the Senate Advisory Committee that some study be made concerning the establishment of an organization to handle the patenting and development of discoveries and inventions made through the use of University facilities by members of the University staff or by research fellows or through the collaboration of such persons.

Pursuant to that suggestion, the Committee has made some investigation of procedure at other universities in the same matter, particularly at the University of Wisconsin and the Ohio State University.

At the University of Wisconsin, a corporation known as the Wisconsin Alumni Research Foundation was established in November, 1925, for the purpose of securing patents and the assignment of patents of discoveries and inventions made in the university and bringing them into commercial use. This organization has developed a very substantial research fund which is used to endow further research projects.

In 1937, the Ohio State University Research Foundation was incorporated. It is reported to be functioning in a very satisfactory manner. Its functions and operations are similar to those of the Wisconsin organization.

Other universities have made use of Research Corporation, which has offices in New York and Chicago. This organization undertakes the work and expense of procuring patents and making commercial development thereof, on a contractual basis.

Since the University itself is not organized in such a way as to be able to undertake these functions, it is the opinion of the Committee that a separate entity in the form of an incorporated body should be set up to perform these functions or some existing corporation should be adapted to the purpose in hand.

It is the belief of the Committee that the University should cooperate with members of its staff in patenting and developing their discoveries and inventions with a view to encouraging research and raising funds for the endowment of research in the University. The proceeds arising from the commercial development of such patents should be shared between the Research Foundation, as the agent of the University, and the inventor or discoverer on a fair basis. The basis of that division might well vary in different cases, depending upon the circumstances of each case.

In all cases in which the University laboratories, materials, and facilities are used in research projects done on University time, it is assumed that the University would be entitled to a very substantial share of the proceeds. It is also assumed that discoverers and inventors in such cases would be under obligation to tender their discoveries and inventions to the Research Foundation.

On the other hand, it should be understood that discoveries and inventions made by members of the University staff on their own free time and by use of facilities outside of the University, belong to such discoverers and inventors, and that, in such cases, there is no obligation to share any proceeds with the University. But such discoverers and inventors may contract with the Research Foundation for patenting and development.

The Committee is also of the opinion that the University, under proper safeguards, may enlist the cooperation of industrial organizations in the development of well-defined research projects which originate either in the University or in the industrial organization concerned. In all such cases, the policies governing the acquisition and disposition of results should be clearly defined in advance of beginning the work. Likewise, the nature and scope of such projects, the period of investigation, and the costs to the cooperator and to the University should be clearly defined in the written agreement. Financial accounting of expenditures and receipts should be made at appropriate intervals. All such contracts should be drawn in a manner to prevent any undue delay in publishing the results of research. Such contracts should also preclude the suppression of discoveries and inventions.

Cooperative researches which originate as a result of industrial interest in investigations already under way in the University should be on a different basis from those in which the University agrees to assist the cooperator in developing ideas conceived by him. In the first class, titles to patents, resulting from such researches, should, in general, be assigned to the Foundation. Only shop rights to operate under the patents should be granted to the cooperator. The right to use these patents may also be granted to others under licenses from the Foundation on a royalty basis. In the second class of cooperative research, the patent rights are usually assigned to the cooperator on a fair contractual basis.

Any such organization, whether local or national, would assume all expense of securing patents, defending patents and commercially developing the same. It is the belief of the Secretary of the University of Kansas Endowment Association that the existing charter powers of that organization are ample to enable it to undertake the functions outlined in this report. It is also the Secretary's opinion that the Endowment Association would be willing to undertake to function in this field on the basis of a satisfactory agreement with the University authorities.

The Senate Advisory Committee therefore recommends that efforts be made to establish a working agreement between the University and the Endowment Association, whereby the latter will undertake the handling of the patenting and the commercial development of patentable discoveries and inventions made in the University of Kansas. It is further recommended that the Senate provide a special Committee of two to cooperate with the Chancellor in effecting the establishment of this working agreement with the Endowment Association.

In case the Endowment Association should undertake this work, the Advisory Committee recommends that in connection with each patentable discovery which may be brought to the attention of the Endowment Association a special committee should be appointed, consisting of those members of the University staff most conversant with the particular matter in hand. The function of such special committees would be to make careful investigation and report concerning the discovery in question, with a view to advising the Endowment Association.

In case the Endowment Association undertakes these functions, it is recommended that the Association retain the services of an experienced patent attorney residing within the region not far from Lawrence.

Respectfully submitted,

Dear Professor Allen:

I am writing to ask you to serve on a committee from the faculty and administrative staff of the University in connection with the Lindley Lectureship fund.

I am sure you saw the original announcement of this plan to perpetuate the proposed "Plan of Living" which Chancellor Lindley hoped to carry out. The first story was carried in the Kansan, then the Graduate Magazine. A general committee has been functioning among the public generally and graduates and students in the more populous areas. We have a sizable amount already in hand.

This has principally been a letter-writing campaign so that our proposal would be that a letter be sent to each member of the faculty and administrative staff over the joint signature of a faculty committee of eight or ten, giving them the opportunity of joining in this memorial. In no sense is this a high-pressure campaign, but because we have received several calls from individuals on the faculty asking how they might help, we have determined on the procedure suggested in this letter.

I hope I may have your early acceptance as a member of this committee, upon receipt of which I will send you a rough draft of the proposed faculty letter. We want to complete this well in advance of Commencement.

Anticipating your acceptance of this invitation, I am

Will Establish Lindley Memorial Lectures

By ROY ROBERTS, chairman, committee in charge

FOR TWENTY years Ernest H. Lindley, the late Chancellor of the University of Kansas, was a figure revered and loved, not only by the graduates of the University, but he became almost an institution in Kansas itself. For two decades he gave his best and his all in building his University and his state.

When he retired he looked forward to a continuing service in the years ahead. Long he had planned to devote his final years to a series of lectures at the University, expounding his sane philosophy on the "Values of Living." The late Chancellor felt perhaps he could round out the service of his always fruitful life in these last years aiding the hundreds of young men and women of Kansas in reaching a proper philosophy of life, a worthwhile set of values.

He left the University with zest and started on his trip around the world, disrupted as it was by the war, and for months he delved into the literature of that most ancient of philosophies in China. Always he was alert, gathering material to use on his return in his lectures to the young folks of Kansas. It was a tragedy that he died thousands of miles away from his beloved University. Even his body found its last rest in a watery grave in the Pacific.

CARRY ON HIS IDEA

What better memorial could those of K.U. and Kansas who loved and revered the late Chancellor make to his memory than to carry on and make come true his last hope and ambition, a lectureship on "Values of Living" which could be set up at the University and would be a living memorial to this kindly man?

Such a lectureship would make a genuine contribution to the character building side of the University. It would leave its impress on thousands of future citizens of our state. It would be forever a living memorial to Chancellor Lindley.

To the thousands of K.U. men and women, and Kansans who came under his timely influence, are you ready to give your part to such a memorial fund?

The Lindley Memorial Lectureship Fund will be administered by the Endowment Association. Each year it is proposed that the Chancellor should invite to the University for a lecture, or a series of lectures, some outstanding national or world figure to speak on "Values of Living"—just as the late Chancellor proposed to do in his courses "The Human Situation" and "Plan for Living."

Contributions may be sent to the Lindley Memorial Lectureship Fund, Roy A. Roberts, fs'08, chairman, room 303 B, Frank Strong Hall, Lawrence, or to any member of the committee.

COMMITTEE IN CHARGE

The following persons have been appointed to serve on the Lindley Memorial Lectureship Committee by Chancellor Deane W. Malott:

Roy A. Roberts, fs'08, chairman, Kansas City, Mo.; Henry J. Allen, Wichita; James S. Barrow, l'00, Nappa, Calif.; Maurice L. Breidenthal, '10, Kansas City, Kan.; C. L. Burt, e'09, Hutchinson; Charles Haines, e'29, New York City; Fred Harris, l'98, Ottawa; Alfred G. Hill, '17, Jamestown, N.Y.; Irving Hill, '96, Lawrence; W. W.
