My dear Phog:

Thank you so much for showing me the correspondence with Mr. Browne. It is very interesting.

I have sometimes thought that you and I had much in common, for both of us find ourselves so frequently trying to buck the crowd and its accepted practices. Sometimes I get very tired of what seems to be the everyday fight to maintain decent standards. Sometimes I feel like turning the responsibility over to others, telling myself that I have done my share of it, and now it is someone else's turn to carry on; and then I realize that that would be cowardly and that I could do it only by forfeiting my self-respect.

I hope you will continue to stand for the things in athletics for which you have always stood. Good luck to you!

Sincerely yours,

Paul B. Lawson, Dean
