ESTES PARK CONFERENCE

OF THE

YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION

THE ESTES PARK CONFERENCE was organized as a place of training for Christian workers. Educational groups as well as various social welfare organizations have found these Grounds an ideal meeting place. The summer months are scheduled with conventions, conferences, summer schools and educational seminars. The facilities of the Grounds are available to people of cultural interests, such as teachers, social workers, clergymen, Y.M.C.A. secretaries and others. The equipment is especially adapted to the uses of families who wish to combine study and inspiration with a summer vacation. Season: June, July, August and a portion of September as needed for Conference purposes.

LOCATION

The Estes Park Conference, with its 800 acres, and 150 buildings, is located 4½ miles southwest of Estes Park Village, in the heart of the scenic beauty of that country, adjoining Rocky Mountain National Park. Those familiar with the Conference Grounds claim there is no other location of such surpassing beauty, or so convenient to so many points of interest. Within easy hiking distance are splendid trails leading to Long's Peak, Bear Lake, Loch Vale, the Glaciers, Fern and Odessa Lakes and Marguerite Falls, and splendid automobile roads to the Continental Divide, Horseshoe Falls, Horseshoe Park, Estes Village, the Fall River Road over to Grand Lake and the new, magnificient, million-dollar Trail Ridge Road of unbelievable scenic beauty.

THE LODGE

CONFERENCES

A number of conference groups have already signified a desire to be at the Estes Park Conference this season. These include the Y.M.C.A.-Y.W.C.A. Intercollegiate Conference on Religion; the Employed Officers School of the Y.M. C.A.; the Estes Park School of Religion under the direction of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, the Home Missions Conference, the Foreign Missions Conference of North America and the International Council of Religious Education: the Doane College-Estes Park School of Coaching. under the direction of Dana X. Bible, football coach of the University of Nebraska, and Dr. F. C. Allen of the University of Kansas; the Lutheran Bible School, and Young People's Conference; and also the Hazen Conference. There will be weekly seminars for clergymen every Tuesday morning during the entire season. There have been arranged a number of week-end conferences on personnel, business, economics, and education, which will be conducted in cooperation with various universities and colleges.

Evening programs of music and entertainment, and a series of evening outdoor camp fires have been arranged through the cooperation of the National Park Service. National Park rangers will lecture and take those interested on all day nature hikes.

Many of the conferences are open to guests on the Grounds. However, guests will not be bothered or urged to attend anything, but will be perfectly free for recreational activities of their own choosing.

CHILDREN

Through the efforts of a group of interested friends a neat little bungalow has been erected and equipped for the use of the children of the camp. An experienced kindergarten instructor is in charge. Mothers can leave their children in her care while they attend classes or conferences or enjoy out-of-doors activities in the mountains.

Children in this group are from three to ten years of age. A nominal charge of 50 cents a week will be made for each child, or $1.00 a week for a family regardless of the number of children.

ADMINISTRATION BUILDING

This attractive building, with its spacious lobby, two huge fireplaces, comfortable chairs, piano, reading lamps, art nook, book shop and soda fountain, provides the Business and Social Center of the Conference Grounds.

And adjoining it are well equipped shower rooms with hot and cold showers and tub baths, open to all residents on the grounds.

RESTAURANT

With a seating capacity of four hundred and double serving facilities the Restaurant 19 able to take care of large conferences quickly and satisfactorily.

The Restaurant will be under the direction of a competent manager and excellent meals will be served at reasonable prices.

ASSEMBLY HALL

The Assembly Hall will accommodate a thousand people. Available without extra cost to conferences and conventions for larger gatherings.

Sunday morning church services are held here throughout the summer season. A special effort is made to secure for these services some of the ablest ministers of the country.

PROGRAM AND ENTERTAINMENT

ARTHUR C. JONES
DIRECTOR OF PUBLICITY

"Rockne called him the 5th Horseman. The mule that cleared the way."

"PHOG" ALLEN
of Kansas

Famous for his "Phog" Allen system of basket-ball and the stratified transitional zone defense. Sixteen years at Kansas—eleven championships.

JACK BLOTT of Michigan

Yost considers him one of the greatest of Michigan centers. The man who developed Michigan's 1933 National Champion-ship line.

NOBLE KIZER

Athletic Director - Head Football Coach. Has unique distinction of being recognized as one of the ablest athletic executives and football strategist in the Big Ten. Former Notre Dame 165-pound guard, on the National Championship "Four Horsemen" eleven of 1924. Head football coach at Purdue for the past four years. His achievements have brought Purdue its greatest record in history. His teams are noted as "touchdown elevens." In four years, Kizer's Purdue teams have played thirty-four games against foes of recognized power with only four losses and two ties. Kizer is a forceful speaker and packs a lot of gridiron wisdom obove his eyes.

"PHOG" ALLEN

Forrest C. Allen, better known as "Phog," needs no introduction to coaches as his name is well known wherever basketball is played. Has one of the finest records of any coach in the country. During his sixteen years at Kansas has won the championship of his conference twelve times. He is a past President of the National Basketball Coaches Association and member of the Joint Rules committee. Besides his coaching ability, Allen is an authority of training methods and during the school he will teach from this angle. Coaches who have been in attendance at schools where Allen has taught are enthusiastic about his ability as a teacher.

JACK BLOTT

Creighton

The basketball "Wizard of the West." One of the best teachers of offensive basketball. His teams have been famous for their scoring ability.

Fielding H. Yost of Michigan considers him one of the greatest of Michigan centers. Was chosen ALL AMER-ICAN on Walter Camp's 1923 football team. Graduated with the class of 1924. Blott has taught at the University of Chautauqua, New York. Has been connected with the University of Michigan summer school for six years and one summer at Chautauqua, New York. Has been with the University of Michigan's Athletic Department for ten years. During this time some of the best Michigan teams of the past decade have been developed. In 1933 Michigan won the undisputed title of National Champion. The fine Michigan line coached by Blott played no little part in this success. Blott brings to the Columbus Coaching School a wealth of football knowledge.

Decide NOW-Come to Columbus June 18 to 23

A. A. SCHABINGER

A. A. Schabinger of Creighton established one of the finest records in basketball of any coach in the country. His teams won the championship of the North Central conference five out of six years and the championship of the Missouri Valley three times out of six years membership. During the thirteen years Schabinger has coached at Breighton, his teams have played 218 games, winning 157aand losing 61 for a winning percentage of .720. Schabinger is noted for his teams' offensive ability, and Creighton has an average of 32.3 against their opponents' 23.2. Schabinger has defeated some of the outstanding teams of the country.

MAJOR JOHN L. GRIFFITH

Former Director of Athletics at Drake University. In 1916 elected Dean of Men. Founder of the Drake Relays. While in France his football team won the Championship of the A. E. F. Went to Illinois as Director of the Coaching School in 1919 and remained there untill 1932 when he was appointed Commissioner of Athletics of the Western Conference. Is editor and publisher of the Athletic Journal, a technical magazine for coaches and athletic directors. Major Griffith is an outstanding figure in the world of sports and brings to Columbus his vast knowledge of athletics throughout the country. An open discussion of problems will be conducted by Major Griffith at which coaches may fire as many questions as they desire. This will be one of the features of his appearance.

JACK KELLER

World's champion hurdler. Holds more records than any athlete in the country. While in high school, he made world's records in the high hurdles of 15.2 and 24. in the lows. Also won the state, city, district and Ohio Relay championships. While in competition at Ohio State he esublished world's record of 14.1 in the high hurdles and 23.7 in the lows. He was the Big Ten, National Collegiate, and National A. A. U. Champ in 1932. Member of the Olympic Team. Holds World's Record for 220 lows around curve in 23.5 Penn Relay Champion three years in a row. Ohio Relay Record same time. Holds fastest time in Big Ten meet of 14 flat in 1932. Jack will show how it is done at the Columbus Coaching School.

JIM RENNICK

Ohio Sports Editor, The Associated Press. Formerly Sports Editor of the Springfield, Ohio, Sun for five years and then associated with the Sports Department of the Detroit Free Press for three years. During the past three years has had charge of all sports in Ohio for the Associated Press. Rennick has covered every Southern California, Notre Dame games, Michigan and Ohio State, and many other Big Ten schools. He also covers the Ohio and Buckeye Conferences. Rennick will talk on "The Relation of the Coach to the Press."

BILLY SOUTHWORTH & JACK MCCALLISTER

The Columbus Coaching School is indeed fortunate in s ecuring two such able men as Jack McCallister and Billy Southworth. This promises to be one of the feature attractions of the school. McCallister has had a varied baseball experience, being former manager of the Cleveland Indians and for the past sixteen years chief scout for the Boston Red Sox. His connections with baseball have carried him from coast to coast and he will be able to present an interesting treatise on every angle of baseball. Billy Southworth, formerly of Pittsburgh, New York Giants, and an outfielder for the St. Louis Cardinals when they won the world's championship. Later, manager of Rochester, winning pennants there, and in 1932 was manager of the Columbus Red Birds, finishing second in the American Association. Southworth has probably had more experience than any other man in the country in dealing with young ball players, and his ability to impart a wonderful store of baseball knowledge has made him one of the recognized baseball authorities in the country. These man will show many fundamental drills for teaching young ball players.

GEORGE SIMPSON

"The World's Fastest Human." Simpson, while a member of the track team at Ohio State University, was considered the greatest sprinter in the country. His performances in the Penn Relays, Ohio Relays, and in the Olympics stamped him as one of the finest track men ever turned out at Ohio State. His records are too numerous to mention. His association with Jack Keller at the Columbus Coaching School will be of interest to all track coaches.

Messrs. Pete Cawthon and Dutchey Smith, jointly engaged in the business of running Texas Dech's athletics, further capably assisted by Del Morgan, have wisely selected one of the most colorful athletic figures of the country as a member of their summer coaching school faculty. What Knute Rockne was to fcotball, Dr. Forrest C. "Phog" Allen is to basketball. The Tech ciraches would not have selected a Wetter, more influential, more popular man. It is doubtful if they could have selected a man with a more profound knowledire and love of the game. It is doubtful if there is a man anywhere who knows his basketball shots and how to teach basketball than Phog Allen, direcipr of athletics at the University of Kansas.

Dr. Allen's record, or a brief summery of it, appears in another column of today's paper, along with the formal announcement that he has accepted Tech's request to come here are conduct a series of classes and deliver a series of lectures along the lines of his favorite topic next July. Pris coming should give the school added impetus, draw a greater attendance, provide bigger and better publicity for Tech and for Lubbock.

Besides being an athletic director of one of the greatest schools o fthe country and head baskethmill coach and trainer there, Itr. Allen finds time to do a lot of writing. At present he is conducting a regular feature column for the Associated Press, in which he tells of basketball teams and players. He is a veritable; well of knowledge, his 25 years of coaching experience having provided him with enough soap to fill many columns. He has written for various other news and feature syndicates, and some of the quality magazines. He is a mationally known and recognized authority. Limited space prevents them publications from carrying In: Allen's Associated Press column, which is otherwise available for publication herein. We were reading one of his columns yesterday, in which he recalls a game in 1903 between the Haskell Indians, whom he later coached, and the Kansas Cify Athletic club, where he gained all-American honors the following year.

"The Indians" court," writes Allen, "was fitted, with chicken wire back stops and instead of shooting for the baskets the Indians fired away from a distance at the sagging area in the wire, netting. Much to the chagrin of their 'white man' opponents the ball would drop dead and fall directly into the basket.

"To complicate matters further, in the Indians' gymmasium there were six large, round, steel floor supports located in the playing court. The Indians would darm down the court feint to go one direction, there clutch a post and swing off at an unexpected angle to elude their pursuers and receive the ball at an unlooked for angle."

Somebody has waxed industrious enough to compile figures tending to dispute the arguments of opponents of the game to the effect that basketball is too strenuous. Most of these statistics, it is reported, were taken from an entire season's play between Big Ten college teams:

There are a total of 108 interruptions in the average basketball game.

Average playing period without interruption is $16.3 seconds.

Actual playing minutes of an entire game are 29 minutes and a half.

Longest playing periods without stops average two minutes and 22 seconds.

Shortest playing period is one second.

There are 22 fewls in the average game.

There are 31 center jumps in the average game.

There are 19 jump balls in average games.

Average number of free throws is 14.

Average number of out-ofbounds plays is 38.

Field goals in a game average 18.

Planning Now Will Save You Worry Next Winter

The full week of basketball instruction which will be offered at the sixth annual Indiana Basketball School at Anderson, Indiana, will include probably the widest variety of hardwood teaching ever given at one clinic. Every coach who wants to better himself and give his team the benefit of improved coaching should make plans now to attend this school.

DR. FORREST C. "PHOG" ALLEN
Basket Ball Coach
University of Kansas

Phog Allen, director of athletics and basketball coach at the University of Kansas, member of the National Joint Rules Committee, and famed psychologist in the coaching field, will head the list of prominent net authorities to give instruction at the Indiana school.

This will be the first time that Allen has ever appeared as an instructor in an Indiana coaching school, and the pithy Kansan is expected to astound Hoosier coaches with his set-up of the defense which has led him to eleven championships in the past sixteen years. Allen will also give detailed instruction on handling of injuries, in which field he is considered a past master.

One Week -- August 21 to 26 -- Tuition $15

George Keogan, the dynamic net director at the University of Notre Dame, is the exact opposite of Dr. Allen, both in basic psychology of the game and in methods of teaching his players. This cross-view of the game and its teaching will be of inestimable value to coaches attending the school.

Keogan's record at Notre Dame is 157 won and 49 lost, surpassing records of both Dr. Meanwell and Dr. Carlson. The Irish under Keogan have also won 8 out of twelve games with Butler. His lectures at Anderson will include discussion of the pivotal type play, both from a college and high school standpoint.

Other features will be the cross court offense and the short pass offense. With the pivotal type, Keogan was able to place Krause on the All-American as the best center in the country.

Assisting these two outstanding college men will be a group of Indiana high school coaches, all of whom have built championship teams. Glenn Curtis of Martinsville, champs of 1933; Cliff Wells of Logansport, annually a contender for the title, and reputedly the best fundamental team in the state; and Everett Case, twice winner of the state title. These men have coached a score or more of players who have been prominent in Western Conference colleges. Types of Indiana basketball as played by the winners will be displayed.

GENERAL INFORMATION

The Indiana Basketball School of 1933 is the Sixth Annual Clinic under the direction of Everett N. Case, and last year was the largest basketball school in America The sessions this year will be held in Anderson, Indiana on the week of August 21-26.

Anderson, Indiana, a city of 50,000 population, is located in the east, central part of the Hoosier state, 32 miles northeast of Indianapolis.

The Anderson Country Club and the Municipal golf courses provide ample facilities for all coach golfers. The Municipal bathing pool and a fine bathing beach at Zoo Island Park provide for a daily plunge. The famous Mounds State Park is located at the edge of the city.

Classes will be held both morning and afternoon in order that the work may covered in one week's time. Get-together sessions and round table discussions are included in the school schedule, giving every coach a chance to get the other fellow's view point.

The school is a very thorough one, touching on every phase of the game including the new rules. Facilities for room and board are ample in Anderson and prices are very reasonable.

A number of school boards and trustees permit their coaches to attend the Indiana Basketball School instead of the County Institute.

Private interviews may be arranged with instructors. This will help solve your individual basketball problems.

Practical demonstration work will be given and every coach is requested to bring his basketball togs.

Last season basketball mentors from colleges and high schools attended from all parts of the United States. The unusual high type of play by Indiana high school teams and the demonstrations offered were praised by the attending coaches.

WHAT OTHERS SAY

The Indiana Basketball School is the best of several I have attended.

G. E. Shephard, University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, N. C.

The School offers the most practical course in basketball for coaches of any I have attended.

B. R. Peterson, Morgan Park High School Chicago, Ill.

I would say to any coach who really wants basketball, "Go to the Indiana Basketball School."

Oliver Walker, Dale, Okla.

A fine school and excellent demonstrations.

Geo. Edwards, Univ. of Missouri, Columbia, Mo.

I attended the school in 1932, and there is nothing better.

Mark Wakefield, Central High School, Evansville, Ind.

The instruction in the school was fine, and everything was managed excellently.

Ed. Kelleher, Fordham University, Fordham, N. Y.

(COACHING ADDRESS)

(SUMMER ADDRESS)

Mr. Floyd Bowling 208 B Quadrangle State University of Iona Lowe City, Lowe Dear Mr. Bowling: I shall be very glad to meet you at the Spirit Lake Coaching School and give you any ideas or information I have in regard to the coaching of basket ball. Some evening perhaps would be a better time so that we could get together for an uninterrupted discussion. Whenever I am out on a coaching school job. I feel that my time belongs to the school, and I am always glad to give those enrolled in the school any information L can. The manuscript of my new book entitled "Better Basket Ball, Incorporating Technique, Tectics, ' and Tales" will be in the hands of the publisher, McGraw-Hill and Company, about July 1, and will be on the market next fall., There are a number of books on the market but to my knowledge, no very recent ones on basket ball. Ward "Piggy" Lambert, of Purdue University, has a basket ball book. There are others, but I think that one should not try to follow too many different systems but should follow one as far as possible, reading the others with an idea of polishing up on certain points. Your high school basket ball experience should be quite an asset to you in your new coaching job. If there is any other information I can give you, I shall be happy to do so, and in the meantime, I hope that you will find it possible to attend the Coaching School at Spirit Lake. Sincerely yours. PGA:08 Director.
